Hughes will sell you Rock Candy Syrup for 90c. a gallon and the best Strained Honey that ever went down your throat for 74c. a pound.

Attorney-General J. M. Porterfield of the tenth Judicial District is visiting friends and relatives in and around Savannah this week.

Judge Patterson arrived home last Saturday. He will spend this week with his family and go to Lawrenceburg to hold court next week.

We visited our old friend, Mr. Schubert, the first of the week and he exerted himself to make our stay pleasant in which he succeeded.

Barnard & Co., feather renovators, left last Monday for Adamsville. They are a quiet, nice and gentlemanly company and won the respect of our people while here.

J. J. Williams & Bro. bought a large raft last week that came down from Mississippi. Henry Williams says that it is the best raft he ever saw in this river. It contained over 200,000 feet of lumber.

O. C. Brown, has built a new blacksmith shop on main street east of the lively stable, and is now ready for work. Mr. Brown had a good run of work last year and we predict he will get a good share this year.

Mr. J. L. Colens, one of Hardin's most prosperous farmers, was in town Monday and gave us a call. He brought in his daughter, Miss Ida who is attending school at Hardin College and boarding at Mrs. Nanette Broyles.

HAPPY.

We will be the happiest man in town when we don the new suit that will be presented us by Geo. Hight, the drummer, for complying with his request not to publish an account of his lawsuit with the Dutch peddler.

A Sensible Horse.

J. Harston East owns a horse that became lame in one foot for want of a shoe. The horse concluded last Monday that he had been neglected and went direct to McGee's shop where he had often been shod, and put his head in the door. The smith examined his foot, replaced the missing shoe and the horse returned to his home.

Missionary Entertainment.

The Missionary entertainment at the Methodist church Sunday night was well gotten up and each feature ably sustained. Master George Benton made his first appearance before the public in a recitation, subject, "Pennies," which was heard all over the house. He was not at all excited and did remarkably well for one so young. Sam Cunningham, Savannah's young orator, entertained the audience with a recitation, subject, "Thy Brothers' Blood, etc." The recitations, "The Great Famine Cry" by Willie Barnhill, "The Lost Chicken" by Stella Barlow, "No Sects in Heaven" by Miss Lattie Smith, "The Starless Crown" by Miss Mollie Barlow, were all well delivered. The music by the choir was excellent and the chant, "It is well" was especially well rendered and soul-stirring. The closing remarks by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Cotton, delivered in his usual grand and impressive style, were well received, and the exercises throughout were a success, even down to the last and most important, the contribution box.

IN MEMORY.

Belle C. Moore, wife of W. A. Moore and daughter of W. C. Porterfield, was born in July 1853 and died Mar. 11, 1887. She became a member of the M. E. Church South early in life and remained a consistent and devoted member to her death. She never complained of the trials to which this life subjected her. She was devoted to her husband and child, and to the two little orphans who were under her care she found no labor too when their health or comfort were involved; meet her where you might there was always sunshine about her. She had all the characteristics of a noble woman and lived in hope of the final rest that awaits the people of God. Belle has left a name that will not be soon forgotten. Her husband, father, mother, brothers and sisters are left to mourn her absence, but may this sad bereavement be sanctified to their good. JOHN F. POWERS.

Exciting Chase.

Sheriff Conner and Lon Story attempted to arrest Jas. Williams, in the Nation near the Alabama and Tennessee line, last Monday, on a charge of larceny and for whom a reward of $50 had been offered by D. T. Mangum. Williams' residence being in an open field, he saw the officers approaching and mounting his mule began a swift retreat, the officers in hot pursuit, but just as the chase was assuming an interesting attitude Conner's horse jumped a log throwing him to the ground, which put him out of the race. Story continued in pursuit and fired a shot which brought Williams to the ground. Story then dismounted when a tussle ensued which resulted in Williams' escape with the pistol, which he wrenched from Story's hand, he being a much larger man than Story.

Another Art Craze.

The latest art work among ladies is known as the "French Craze," for decorating china, glassware, etc. It is something entirely new, and is both profitable and fascinating. It is very popular in New York, Boston and other Eastern cities. To ladies desiring to learn the Art, we will send an elegant china plaque (size 18 inches), handsomely decorated, for a model, together with box of material, 100 colored designs assorted in flowers, animals, soldiers, landscapes etc., complete, with full instructions, upon receipt of only $1.00. The plaque alone is worth more than the amount charged. To every lady ordering this outfit who encloses the address of five other ladies interested in Art matters, to whom we can mail our new catalogue of Art Goods, we will enclose extra and without charge, a beautiful 30 inch, gold-tinted plaque. Address The Empire News Co., Syracuse, N. Y.

Thos. H. Paine left on Silver Cloud for Nashville.

CORRESPONDENCE.

CLIFTON ITEMS.

Everybody was gardening last week.

Horseback riding is all the rage with the young folks.

Jim Edmiston left on the Clyde for Cincinnati to purchase spring goods for T. S. Hughes.

W. J. Berry and family leave on the Cherry for Nashville where he will make his future home. Miss Joe his sister will be their guest for an indefinite time.

Miss Annie Prim has gone to Lynnville to attend school.

The Presbyterians have secured the services of Rev. Donald for the present year.

Miss Lillie Selph is visiting friends at Culbert City, Ky.

Mr. Wm. Wailer arrived from St.

Louis on the Cherry with a complete outfit for J. A. Lancaster's foundry, which will soon be in full blast. Clifton can furnish all the plows that the Tennessee river country needs. SALLIE FEW CLOTHES.

Items From Sibley.

Sowing oats has been all the go for the last five days.

Several gardens and yards have new palings around them this week. Mrs. Mollie Plunk is sick with pneumonia fever.

Mrs. Jabe Wesson is still quite low. John Tidwell, Abe Blankenship and Bud Marshall have been floating saw logs on Mud creek bottom down to Alexander's steam mill.

Sherman Pitts and Miss Fannie Pitts, both of the 13th, were married last week in the 12th.

In answer to Max Riley's question we give the following as our solution: Each rope will be 122 ft. and 5 inches long; the stake will stand 111 ft. 9 1/2 inches from the first tower, 115 ft. 8 1/2 in. from the second and 118 ft. 8 1/2 in. from the third.

It seems to me that a person able to hand out geometrical problems for solution ought to know the population and area of the county in which he lives.

We will give Max Riley this question to solve: A conical post is ten feet high and one foot in diameter at the base. A ribbon one inch wide is wrapped around the post from the pinnacle to the base so as to cover the surface. How many acres of ground will a dog walk over by taking the lower end of the ribbon in his mouth and unwinding it—keeping it taut of course. CYRUS.

Cerro Gordo Items.

The measles excitement is abating as no other case has accrued since John White recovered.

Shelby Dickey brought back mumps from his St. Louis trip and has distributed a little, all seem to be in a very light form.

J. N. White has contracted his engine, mill and gin to parties near Coffee Landing, but will retain mill till July.

The cross-tie business here is bringing in a considerable amount of money—five hundred dollars were distributed among the people Saturday, March 5th, and some parties have embarked in the business for two years.

Farmers are utilizing this fine weather sowing oats, repairing fence and plowing.

E. B. Harbour is off to the cities for his spring stock of goods.

The Wheelers here think Uncle Dick must have been rather rebellious or refused to pay his entrance fees, and not knowing how the case stands having only one side of the story, feel in sympathy with him and wish to say to him, by way of encouragement, that the balance of the road is smooth and quiet and the other degrees are by far the most important and in fact what he has is of no use if he stops now, and as to the pay they will take potatoes next Fall at digging time. And feeling that he would be an important member, he is hereby encouraged to persevere in the good work begun and no doubt but he would be elected "Grand Mogul" at the next election and then it would be so funny to see the other boys ride the wheel and splash the water, and this would more than compensate for the sorrow and splashing of the past. By all means go ahead Uncle Dick and show yourself worthy the confidence so well merited. OBSERVER.

Bargain In Music.
